START WAR ON NIGHT PARKING VIOLATORS HERE

11 Autos Tagged Today In Campaign Along Main
And Broadway

TO ENFORCE CODE
MAYOR DECLARES

Shop Men warned Parallel Parking Will Cease On Lower Depot St.

War was declared today by Mayor Phil G. Hiddeson on violators of the city's all-night parking ordinance.

Fourteen automobiles were tagged this morning by patrolmen, alleged violators of the ordinance.

The ordinance, which provides against parking on Main st. and Broadway between the hours of 3 and 6 in the morning, Hiddeson stated, will be strictly enforced.

This ordinance, in Section 21, of the city's traffic code, provides that no vehicle shall park, or stop, or remain standing on the following streets between the hours of 3 a.m. and 6 a.m.

Main st., between Lincoln and Ellsworth ave.

Broadway, between Main st. and Pershing ave.

Within a short time, parallel parking on Depot st. will also be enforced. Mayor Hiddeson also announced, and tags were placed on the autos parked there in the last two days as warning.

Convenient parking grounds have been provided, he states, and additional ones will be established, in order to eliminate the all-day street parking that private resident owners on that street have been bothered continually.

The warning was issued to shop men, employed at the factories on Depot st., that lights on their cars will be required all night, when the parallel parking rule goes into effect.

The shop men are expected to make arrangements for parking immediately, as the new parking rule will go into effect soon.

Railroad st. was vacated today from shop parking through an order from the safety department. Hiddeson said that the privilege of parking there all day was abused too often and the street closed to traffic many times because of the street's over-parked condition.

The parallel parking arrangement of Depot st. and the establishment of special parking grounds for the shop men will simplify the parking problem on the street, the mayor declared.

SQUELCH SQUIRE IN EDITOR'S CASE

Judge Dismisses Charge, Claiming Error; Temper held to Blame

Lancaster, O., May 25.—William Lewis news editor of the "Gazette," local daily was back in his office this morning, following his release or a writ of habeas corpus from the county jail here yesterday where he spent two hours on a contempt charge.

Lewis' confinement followed his refusal to publish a retraction of an editorial in which he took exception to a fine and sentence imposed on a Columbus man by Squire E. W. Boerster for an alleged attack on Mrs. Eleanor B. Pickering, also of Columbus, on the highway near here.

Justice Boerster sentenced Lewis to ten days in jail and imposed a $20 fine on the contempt charge to which Lewis took immediate appeal. His appeal was heard by Judge Shell who dismissed the case on error.

Judge Shell, in his decision found that Justice Boerster had no jurisdiction in the case, pointing out that the editorial had been written after the case referred to had been completed, and therefore did not disturb the court. Judge Shell expressed belief the matter was merely an official loss of temper.

CHINESE WAGING TERRIFIC BATTLE

London, May 25.—The opposing Northern and Southern Chinese forces are again waging terrific battles along a wide front, dispatches from Hong Kong received by the Exchange Telegraph Company reported today.

With Peking as their objective, the Southern armies are making determined efforts to capture Tsin-ning, Hokienfu and Tsangchow, which are considered key centers. The Northerners, however, are putting up stubborn resistance and latest reports do not indicate that they are yielding to their foes.

Schwab Hints Raise In Steel Price; Sees Good Business Year

New York, May 25.—Charles M. Schwab, the new "spokesman" of the steel industry—having succeeded the late Elbert H. Gary as president of the American Iron and Steel Institute—told members of his organization at its convention here today that there was "every justification" for expecting that business in 1928 would exceed that of last year in volume.

"I do not think that this country intends to demand the service we are rendering for the small return

On Sunday

The festival of Pentecost or Whit Sunday is to be observed Sunday by Holy Trinity English Lutheran church.

At this time confirmation services will be held for those members of the catechetical class who have completed the required course of study in the Bible and Luther's Small Catechism.

James A. Campbell, president of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company, also addressed the institute. He said that he expected the steel business would be rather quiet.

which the steel industry is currently receiving," Schwab said.

"I do not mean to imply that the steel industry expects large returns. The industry generally has been adapting itself very well to narrower margins than heretofore—but we have a right to expect and it is in public interest that we earn enough to provide for expansion, modernization and development of our plants which the country's ever-growing needs constantly require."

Earnings Are Small

Schwab asserted that the steel industry was earning on its investment only a little more than interest on savings bank deposits.

One of the causes of this situation, he explained, was waste due to cross hauling—that is, the selling of products by mills located in one territory in territories where other mills are located.

He announced his intention of recommending to the directors of the institute the appointment of a committee of experts to study the problem and to recommend a constructive plan to eliminate this waste under government supervision.

"We just want to look him up," police said when asked why they were looking for the aged Cleveland man.

Filibustering
SENATORS HALT
ON SHOALS VOTE

Relax Battle long Enough To Adopt Conference
Report On Bill

SESSION HAD BEEN HELD FOR 24 HOURS

Boulder Dam Opponents
Then Start Up Fight
This Afternoon

Washington, May 25.—After paralyzing the 70th congress for more than 24 hours by blocking all legislation in the senate a group of filibustering senators at noon today relaxed their battle long enough to permit adoption of a conference report on $100,000,000 Muscle Shoals project.

The vote was 43 to 34.

The filibuster however was resumed immediately by opponents of the Boulder dam bill.

The report was sent to the house where leaders predicted its early adoption.

A further break in the filibuster came a few minutes later when the Boulder dam bill was temporarily sidetracked to permit consideration of the conference report on the new $223,000,000 tax reduction bill.

A group of opponents of the Boulder dam bill, joining with a handful of foes of the Muscle Shoals bill brought the senate's legislative machinery to a halt by refusing to allow a vote on either measure. As a result, the senate was held in continuous sessions to force final action on the bills, by breaking down the opposition through sheer exhaustion.

At 7 o'clock this morning, the senate had been in continuous session to force final action on the bills by breaking down the opposition through sheer exhaustion.

At 7 o'clock the senate had been in continuous session for 24 hours.

Filibuster Well Organized

The filibuster was so well organized and functioned so smoothly that it blocked action not only on the two bills at which it was directed but on all other legislation as well. The administration's new tax reduction bill, the second deficiency appropriation bill, and hundreds of less important measures all were stalled by the deadlock.

The speech-making began at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. After several hours of over-riding presidential vetoes the senate began debate on the Muscle Shoals conference report. Senator McKellar (D) of Tennessee, immediately opened an attack on it. Others joined him.

No cure has been found for the poison and attorneys for the five women have found a long and thus far losing battle to gain some restitution for them.

FIRST POPPY IS SOLD TO MAYOR

Hiddeson Endorses Sale
Saturday of Veterans'
"Buddy Poppies"

"Poppy Day," held annually by the Veterans of Foreign Wars to raise funds in the interest of Ohio's disabled ex-service men will be observed in Salem tomorrow by Allen Reynolds post.

The first poppy to be placed on sale was sold this morning to Mayor Phil G. Hiddeson, who issued the following proclamation in connection with the drive:

"The annual sale of poppies, made by disabled ex-service men is calculated to perpetuate the fine sentiments which have made the poppy so peculiarly symbolic of the services and the sacrifices of the men who gave so much that freedom might survive in this world. It reflects a particularly appealing sentiment of regard for and interest in these men, so many of whom are permanently disabled.

"I am only too glad to comply with requests for a word of endorsement and approval of this campaign."

The citation is the outgrowth of the long investigation which the commission made into the ramifications of the so-called "radio trust." The corporation has 30 days in which to file an answer.

The practice of the corporation in so writing its contracts that all radio set manufacturers are compelled to use RCA tubes was condemned by the commission as unfair practice and trade restraint.

The club accepted the invitation of the Rotary club to attend the club's meeting next Tuesday, and hear Congressman James T. Begg of Sandusky, speak.

SACRIFICING HEALTH

Mrs. Myrtle Huddleston, of Mattoon, Ill., remained in the water of a pool at a Chicago hotel for 50 hours, 10 minutes and 15 4-5 seconds, thus beating by four hours and ten minutes the endurance record of the world, which was held by a man.

But Mrs. Huddleston had to be lifted from the tank. She could not walk. A wheel chair had to be used to get her to a room. Doctors had to work with her for hours to save her life. Her feet and hands were shrunken beyond recognition. She had lost 20 or more pounds in weight.

By sacrificing her health—by courting actual death—this woman engaged in a stunt which was promoted by a hotel press agent. It is true she received a monetary reward of $5,000. But is the $5,000 worth the gamble? Would this money have compensated the woman's craving for glory had she lost her life, or if permanent injury resulted from her stunt?

The woman is an expert swimmer.
In fact, she is the only woman to have completed the Catalina Channel swim. She certainly knew what she was about when she engaged in the competition in the tank at Chicago. Yet it is recorded that she was a physical wreck when she left the tank as a result of her long immersion.

Stunts of this sort accomplish nothing. Records which are set by such events are really meaningless.
Yet publicity promoters are able to get contestants almost instantly they announce such an event. Men and women will gamble with death for a few dollars and whatever glory attaches to the escapade, in event they finish first.

IMPRESSING PEOPLE

People meet you in about the way you impress them.

What you get from others is nearly always a reflection of yourself.

It is difficult to meet a man with a smile and not smile back.

And if you are irritable and displeasing, you may expect to receive something of this sort from those with whom you associate.

The reason we find so many grouchies in this world is because we are grouchy ourselves.

You may be afflicted with physical and mental troubles but why make others suffer from your indisposition?

Practically all of us have disturbing things to contend with.

The world does not care one whit about your troubles.

People associate with you for the pleasure you can give them.

If you are cheerful and optimistic and can impress people with your hopeful attitude, you make them feel better and they want your society.

What Others Say

FARMERS

Among the figures on the growth of wealth in the United States complied by Stone & Webster and Blod-get, Inc., not the least interesting is a single item relating to the farmer.
It serves both to vindicate him and to raise doubts about McNary-Haugen.
Since 1890 the value of manufactures in the United States has risen from $9,372,000,000 to $62,700,- 000,000. In the same period the value of farm products has gone up from $2,460,000,000 to $19,700,000,000.
Thus while the output of our factories has been multiplied by 6.7 the value of the farmer's products has increased eightfold.

This showing is all the more impressive in view of the notable decline in the number of workers on the farm. In 1890 the rural population was 64.6 per cent of the total population. In 1920 it was 48.6 per cent. Not only has the value of farm products been multiplied by eight since 1890, but the resultant income has to be distributed among only two-thirds as many farmers as in 1890. This same increase in output accompanied by a decline in man-power would dispose of the familiar plaints about the farmer's tax and inefficient methods. If only he practiced account keeping and went in for labor saving de-

READ THE WANT COLUMN

VICES, the farmer would have no reason to run to Washington for relief. To this the farmer is now apparently in a position to reply that he has been quite as efficient in running his business as the manufacturers who are at pains to advise him. And he would point to the facts cited above. He produces a greater money value, compared with 1890, with reduced manpower, than the manufacturers can show with their great increase in labor and their extraordinary development of machinery and production methods.

That the farmer or at least his relief advocates will hasten to make such a retort is doubtful. Their case consists in stressing the farmer's unhappy condition and in the general hypothesis that agriculture is going to the dogs. Rather may we expect that Stone & Webster figures will be challenged. It is arguable that the estimate of nearly $20,000,000,000 as the value of farm products does not represent the amount the farmer receives for his crops. The spread between prices on the farm and in the retail grocery and butcher store is precisely one of the chief items in the farmer's complaint. He may question the absolute figures in themselves. Where did the statisticians get their $19,700,000,000? The annual value of farm products for 1925 and 1926 was $13,000,000,000. The highest year was 1919, when farm products were estimated at $17,677,- 000,000. It is this high peak the farmer has in mind today when he speaks bitterly of "deflation." Yet we must assume that the experts who compiled the Stone & Webster figures knew their business and will stand considerable answering
New York Times.

BOOTLEGGING IN BRITAIN

The news that bootlegging is a thriving industry in Great Britain is brought by the Associated Press.
The bootleggers evade the high taxes on whisky and brandy. White whisky, new and potent, is the popular bootler drink. More than 500 illicit whisky and beer plants have been destroyed or confiscated in England and Scotland. Quarrels among bootleggers lead to gang fights and tipping off of information of law violation to the police.

The same news might come from almost any American city.

High tax gives the bootleg business impetus elsewhere. Prohibition is held accountable for it in the United States. In either case profit is the purpose. Bootlegging will continue until it is made profitless by free and unrestricted legal sale of intoxicating liquors, and that has no advocates who dare come out in the open.—Toledo Blade.

BABY'S SUDDEN SHRIEK MAY MEAN COLIC

DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York. Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

Many a young mother has been brought nearly to death when her baby, without the slightest warning has let out a shriek loud enough to raise the dead. What is wrong?

This is a symptom of colic. Crying in children is usually due to colic. The child may seem perfectly well and go to sleep as usual. Suddenly he starts from his sleep and utters his cry. The legs are drawn up or moved about in efforts to get relief from the pain.

There are many causes for colic. Wrong feeding is the most common one. Undigested food in the intestinal tract may produce the trouble.

Generally there is constipation, with intestinal fermentation as a result. Gas formation follows. Colic is the natural consequence.

Too much candy, too much sugar
—these are common causes. Over-feeding and irregular feeding are other important factors. Hasty drinking of the milk or bolting the other food may be followed by these unpleasant symptoms.

While we are speaking particularly of colic in children, the same causes will produce colic in grown people. But today we are thinking particularly of the youngsters.

The sudden cry of the child is not always due to colic. It may come from earache and the possibility of ear trouble must never be overlooked. Too often it is unsuspected.

Frequent attacks of colic demand correction of the feeding. The first thing to do is select the right food, to prepare the milk properly, and to give the food at regular times.

The constipation should be overcome by right feeding and at the time of the acute attack the bowels must be emptied at once. An enema of hot water and soap will speedily stop the cutting pains of colic. One or two pints of water will be effective.

Hot water compresses to the stomach or the use of the hot water bag will promote the comfort. Heat is of great value.

COURT NEWS

Determine Home's Future

The future of the Mary A. Patterson Memorial Christian Home association building at East Liverpool, erected and completed Feb. 5, 1927 is to be determined through an action filed in common pleas court by William H. Vodrey and George H. Thompson, as counsel for Myrtle H. Jones and others, executors under the will of the late Monroe Patterson. Defendants are his heirs and all have waived the issuance of summons.

It is related in the petition that the Memorial building was completed and that the association was asked to take charge, but has failed to accept it, or either use or occupy it.

This association is now asked to set up its interest in the property at a date that shall be set by the court, or thereafter the title to the building be declared forfeited.

Should the court find that the executors are not entitled to sell the property, then to have the premises revert to the heirs.

The petition in reality is one to have title to real estate quieted, partition and equitable relief.

Files Alimony Action

Grace Hammer, through her counsel Ben L. Bennett of East Liverpool has filed an alimony action in court against her husband Fred Hammer, whom she claims abandoned her without cause March 6 last. They were married April 21, 1921, and no children are of issue. Mrs. Hammer claims in her petition that her husband received $50 per week, and that he has an interest in the property in East Liverpool.

Judgment Is Sought

In a petition filed in common pleas by the Potters Savings Loan Co., through its counsel F. E. Grosshans, judgment for $8,160 is sought against Alice B. Cartwright and others. The suit is based upon a loan of $12,600 executed Aug. 6, 1920, secured by a mortgage note.

The same plaintiff interest has also filed a foreclosure action against Ira S. Capehart and others, so secure satisfaction of a loan of $1,600 agreed to in August 1924, upon which there is claimed to be a balance due of $1,530.42.

Would Void Contract

U. L. White has asked the court to set aside a contract he made with Ray Adam and Charles Craig of East Liverpool to sell his property. White declares that he gave the agency a period of 30 days to effect a sale, and that the contract he signed was in blank, and that he does not know how it has been filled in. The property to be sold is located in Westfield.

Ask Sale Permission

The First Presbyterian church at East Liverpool, through T. V. Milligan, as president of the board of trustees and J. W. Newman, secretary, has filed a petition in common pleas court seeking permission to sell and also mortgage certain of its real estate.

In the petition leave of court is sought to sell lot 5004 in East Liverpool for $6,250, and then to mortgage lot 417 for $16,600, the latter being the former residence of the late Monroe Patterson at East Liverpool, and which has been recently purchased by the church for parsonage purposes. The petition has been filed by Attorney W. H. Vodrey.

Filibustering

(Continued from Page 1) During the night session, Senator Bruce (D) of Maryland; Sackett (R) of Kentucky, Tydings (D) of Maryland, and Blease (D) of South Carolina, held the floor. Tydings spoke for over three hours while Blease held the floor from 1:30 this morning to 4 o'clock.

Shortly after 4 o'clock it developed that but 39 senators were in the chamber or its cloakrooms, instead of the 48 required for the transaction of all official business. Many of those in attendance were stretched out on couches and lounges, snatching naps. There were but a handful of friends and foes of the bills on the floor, the fight against the filibuster being led by Senators Curtis (R) of Kansas; Norris (R) of Nebraska; Johnson (R) of California, and Lafollette (R) of Wisconsin.

The fight against the Muscle Shoals bill really masked the filibuster against the Boulder dam bill. McKellar, in attacking the conference report, voiced objection only to a provision, calling for the erection of a $27,500,000 dam at Cove Creek, Tennessee, a hundred miles above Muscle Shoals on the Tennessee river.

—o—

Search For Senators

On a motion by Norris, the senate ordered its sergeant-at-arms to search the capitol for missing senators. A battery of his assistants immediately set out to "arrest" senators and bring them to the capitol.

In the meantime, a handful of the leaders dozed in their chairs on the floor of the senate in silence.

The search netted Senators Thomas (D) of Oklahoma; Smoot (R) of Utah; Green (R) of Vermont; Sackett (R) of Kentucky, who had gone home after speaking and Waterman (R) of Colorado. At 7 o'clock, four more senators were needed before the senate could resume its functions.

Canada Imports More

"I am by no means pessimistic," Campbell declared. "In fact I expect that the volume of business will be better than usual in a presidential year but I do not expect any really active demand until November."

Schwab called on E. J. Buffington, president of one of the U. S. Steel subsidiaries, and G. M. Verity, president of the American Rolling Mill company, both of whom voiced sentiments similar to those of Schwab.

The steel situation in Canada where imports are increasing, was outlined by Colonel Thomas Cantley, chairman of the Nova Scotia Iron and Steel company of Canada. He said Canada imported $248,000 worth of iron and steel products in 1927 and, based on figures for the first quarter of 1928, would probably increase the amount this year to a total of about $3,000,000.

Hopes Farm Bill Will Be Passed Over His Head By Congress

port entrance here as an express stop for passengers from all points in the district served by the Southwestern. Hukill declared.

As a result, travel between these Ohio cities and Detroit will be reduced from one to four hours.

"It brings the Southwestern in direct contact with four modes of travel—rail, water, air and highway—and marks the greatest achievement of its history," Hukill said.

All-American STAR SUICIDE Detectives Hunting For Other Angles In Case Of John Weldon

Celina, O., May 25.—Hope that the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill can be passed over the veto of President Calvin Coolidge was voiced today by Charles V. Truax, state director of agriculture.

"Unless a farm relief bill embodying the fundamental principles of the McNary-Haugen plan, including the equalization fee, soon becomes a law in this country, agriculture is doomed and our farmers, instead of being the heads of independent families and producers of a large part of the brains and accomplishments of the country, will be back-bent serfs—exactly what their ancestors were before they left the shores of Europe 150 years ago and sought America as the land of freedom and opportunity," said Truax.

"The veto of the McNary-Haugen bill is but another proof of the unalterable opposition of the industrial east—for which Andrew Mellon is the spokesman—to farm relief, and their determination to crucify the American farmer on a cross of cheap food for the industrial workers in the east," declared Truax, addressing a joint meeting of members of the Celina and Greenville Kiwanis clubs here last night.

"Every argument used in the (president's veto) message can be applied with equal force to the tariff, transportation legislation, to gigantic trusts and monopolies, and all other forms of privilege and protection for favored groups and classes that have prospered under the Coolidge administration," Truax continued.

For this event we were fortunate to procure from a manufacturer, a large group of dresses, that sold originally from $16.50 to $19.50, together with some of our regular $16.50 and $19.50 garments. All colors, sizes and styles types for everyone.

100 Silk Dresses, Canton Crepes, Figured Silks, Flat

Crepes, Georgettes, Crepe de Chines. Sizes 14 to 20, 36 to 44. One and two-piece effects.

Weldon is said to have been chosen as an all-American football team member in 1918 while he attended Lafayette College, Easton, Pa.

QUESTION—"Do you use brine, alcohol or any liquid in the Allison freezing tank?"

ANSWER—"This is not at all necessary with the Allison. The freezing tank consists of a double steel drum capable of withstanding a thousand pounds of pressure to the square inch. This is heavily galvanized to prevent rusting, and carries three ice drawers making 72 cakes of ice, totaling about 9 pounds."

FRIDAY, MAY 25, 1928

Markets

STOCKS HIGHER

New York, May 25—All departments of the stock market opened higher today. Studebaker sold at $11 1/2 up 3/4. The 100,000 shares, Wright Aero spurted 3 points to 191; Sears, Roebuck advanced 1 to 105 and U.S. Industrial Alcohol rose 5/8 to 15 1/4. The oil and rails were firm, with Standard Oil of New York up 1/4 to 37 and Marland Oil up 1/4 to 38 3/4. Pennsylvania railroad gained 1/4 to 66 1/4; Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, 35 1/2, up 3/4; Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, 193 1/2, up 5/8; and New York Central, 185 1/2, up 1/2. U.S. Steel opened at 146 1/2 up 5/8 and General Motors sold up 1/4 to 193 1/4. General Motors sold up 1/4 to 193 1/4.

Sharp advances in the motor, radio and metals stocks at the beginning of trading today was the market's response to the $46,000,000 decrease in brokers' loans as reported in the weekly reserve board summary. Though gall money market conditions were unchanged, it was generally believed that the completion of the June-first settlements after next week would release a considerable volume of funds for the stock market, and this was a strong argument for the confident and successful bulls.

Studebaker was shipped along aggressively to above 82 in continuation of the movement which has already brought the stock up nearly 20 points. Chrysler Motor, Packard and General Motors sold up a point each. Stabilization of copper metal prices at 14 1/4 cents a pound was reflected in a strong market for copper stocks. Canadian buying of International Nickel was also in evidence and that stock rose brilliantly to above 99. Anaconda, Cerro de Pasco and Kennecott led the coppers in their forward movement.

Bullish operations were started in a number of the mercantile stocks with Sears, Roebuck and Montgomery Ward receiving the most attention. Rails were inactive but firm with New York Central leading a moderate advance in the dividend stocks in this group. Trading was heavy in the second hour, and the tickler fell behind the market.

The commodity markets were slightly reactionary, with cotton and grain slightly lower. Call money was unchanged at 6 per cent.

Low Hog Price Cut April Cash Income

Low prices for hogs were responsible for a decrease of two points in the index figure of gross cash income to Ohio farmers in April of this year as compared to April of last, according to figures tabulated by V. R. Wertz, of the rural economics department of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station. However, there was a decrease of but two points from the index of March to that of April this year, whereas normally there is a drop of about 5 per cent.

Smaller income from the sale of meat animals is principally responsible for the drop in cash income last month. The chief decline, Wertz found, was in the case of hogs, the gross income from which was 29 per cent less in April of this year than in April of a year ago. Declines in the income from other types of meat animals were less pronounced than in the case of hogs.

Index of dairy income rose two points as compared with that of last year, due to increased production per cow, since the farm price of both whole milk and butterfat was less last month than it was a year ago.

Although considerably less grain was marketed last month than in April of a year ago, higher prices for that grain sold, held the income figure for this year above that for last.

Sale of Poppies By Reynolds Post For Aiding the Disabled

Veterans' Bureau statistics reveal that the number of disabled veterans of the World War is increasing as the men grow older and their powers of resistance finally ebb under the post-war strain of securing a livelihood for dependents and themselves.

This fact has been evident locally as well as in other portions of the country, and as a result, the 1928 distribution of poppies takes rank as one of the most important activities to be sponsored by Allen Reynolds post No. 892 of this city.

The sale of V. F. W. Buddy Poppies provides Allen Reynolds post with an available fund for relief work among disabled and needy veterans and their dependents. The proceeds from the sale of Buddy Poppies make it possible for the post to administer emergency medical and hospital treatment for veterans unable to secure this care for themselves. It also permits the post to carry on welfare work among veteran patients at government hospitals in this regional district.

Aside from these objectives, the puppy relief fund offers a source of relief for the widows and orphans of deceased or disabled comrades. It contributes to the maintenance and expansion of the V. F. W. National Home at Eaton Rapids, Mich., created for the care of widows and orphans of deceased veterans; service bureau work, including Veterans Bureau liaison in this district and at Washington; special equipment for hospital patients and the use of hospitals; military funerals for deceased ex-service men and the acquisition and the maintenance of burial plots and graves.

Every year scores of needy veterans and their dependents are given relief through the V. F. W. poppy fund, administered by a committee of members, within easy access for instant action whenever the emergency arises. In this way, the public has been saved the annoyance of solicitations and pleas for relief contributions throughout the year.

The annual Buddy Poppy drive is the V. F. W. plan to "honor the dead by helping the living."

John Child's Flight From North Church Was Made with Rope

Boston, May 25.—The Massachusetts Society of the Colonial Dames in 1923, the year of the first transcontinental flight across the United States, placed a tablet in the Old North Church Yard, dedicated to John Childs, supposed to have made the first flight in a glider in this country.

Childs' flight, so history says, was made from the steeple of the famous old church on September 13, 1757.

Otis Rice, a lay assistant at the church, is the iconoclast who now seeks to tear the statuesque memory of John Childs from the heights at which his flight placed him. Mr. Rice maintains that information recently discovered leads to the belief that John Childs really did not use a glider at all, but came down from the steeple of the Old North church, with the air of very un-aeronautic equipment to-wit: A rope and pulley.

Rice in going over old parchments found an account of Childs' flight.

South Africa Has Plan To Use Power Of Victoria Falls

Bulawayo, May 25.—The government of Northern Rhodesia is open to receive offers for the harnessing of the Victoria Falls, the world-famous cataract discovered by David Livingstone.

In the legislative assembly here the chief secretary intimated a willing ear would be lent by the government to any proposition to develop the power of the falls.

It is hoped to make the Victoria Falls as valuable to Northern Rhodesia as those of Niagara are to the United States and Canada.

Rice in going over old parchments found an account of Childs' flight.

Garrett Is Released

R. P. Garrett, East Liverpool, convicted by a jury in common pleas for possession of liquor, third offense, has been released from the county jail, his bond of $1,500 having been arranged for my cousin Fouks & Stevenson late Thursday afternoon.

After the verdict was returned, Garrett was committed to the county jail in default of bond. The indictment against Garrett returned by the April grand jury, was the first of the kind to have been recorded in this county. Two days were required to try the issue.

Would Sell Cemetery

The Baptist church of Salem seeks in a petition filed in common pleas court to sell lot 57. Straughn's addition free from burial purposes. This lot is a part of a former company controlled by the church, and it is desired to remove bodies buried there to Grandview cemetery.

This proposal by Dr. A. T. Nankivall, the medical officers of health, everyone agrees that low necks and bare arms are cooler and more comfortable than stiff collars and heavy coats. But the question arises: "Who will be the pioneer?"

A leading politician in Plymouth proposes to walk along the famous Plymouth Hoe in a top hat, a low neck, and a pair of stockings—but it will be on the condition that Dr. Nankivall does the same. Just Van Campen the half mile run, Joe Pasco the javelin, and Captain Roessler and Lowell Allen in the pole vault.

Competition in the hurdles, javelin and 880 will be stronger than at any time in previous years, reports of new records in other sections of the state being entered, after district meets last Saturday, into the state athletic association.

The Salem entries will find themselves hard pressed to qualify, but chances are that Salem will have four men entered, qualified and set for the finals Saturday afternoon.

Captain Keith Roessler and Lowell Allen should win first and second in their pet event, the pole vault, and incidentally smash Allen's old mark of 12 feet.

More than 800 athletes are expected at the meet, but the eyes of almost every spectator in the stands will be set on the vault, when Roessler and Allen compete. The marks the two set in the district meet last year when the two tied for first place. Since then, through the latter part of last season and all through this season the pair have had a keen battle for first place, tying for honors in the majority of events.

Roessler's pushing of Allen so strongly is one of the real causes for Allen's spectacular advancement.

ROESSLER LEADS TEAM IN STATE MEET TODAY

Keith Roessler, one of America's best high school pole vaulters, will lead the Salem High squad to action in the state meet at Columbus today as captain.

Roessler, by clearing 12 feet 3 inches in the district meet last Saturday, won national recognition as one of the few high school vaulters in America capable of soaring to that height. He would have won the event in any other meet but for the remarkable feat of his teammate, Lowell Allen.

Allen and Roessler compose what is probably the greatest pair of high school vaulters in the history of the competition. The two finished first and second in the national indoor meet, tied for first at the Ohio Relays, and tied for first at the Mid-West Relays. In both cases of ties, the height was 12 feet 1/4 inch.

Keith's rise in the pole vault world has not been as spectacular as "Little Rib's," and his first threat to share national honors with him came in the county meet last year when the two tied for first place. Since then, through the latter part of last season and all through this season the pair have had a keen battle for first place, tying for honors in the majority of events.

Roessler's pushing of Allen so strongly is one of the real causes for Allen's spectacular advancement.

GROSS-CONROY BOUT TUESDAY

Promoter Al Zill at Youngstown will go outdoors on May 29 when he features Jack Gross, Philadelphia southpaw heavyweight, and Mike Conroy of Rochester, N. Y., in a 12-round bout at Idora park.

While little is known as to the actual fighting ability of either of these lads, as neither have ever before been seen in action in this section, a casual glance at their respective records shows the fans that they are in for a good night of battling.

Conroy's most outstanding victories have been over such boys as Sandy Seifert. All three of those Romero Rojas, Johnny Urban and wins were in such decisive fashion that a return battle was never called for by the promoters.

Conroy is of the type that is usually known as the club fighter or crowd pleaser. He combines a fair amount of boxing ability with a rushing, slam-bang style of always boring in.

"There will be no racing at Thistle Down track this year if gambling J. T. Ball declared last night when he heard of the sale. "Sheriff Ed" has not changed his mind about gambling and he is not going to change it."

STANFORD HOPES TO WIN IN EAST

May Cop I. A. A. Meet in Boston; Carr And Barnes In Vault

By DAVIS J. WALSH

Boston, May 25.—Competitive sport's annual leg show will undergo its dress rehearsal at the first day's trials of the Intercollegiate A. A. A. championship games this afternoon.

Lee Barnes, Southern California, and Sabin Carr, Yale, present and past holders of the world's record will appear in the pole vault.

Southern California featuring the potential double winner in Eric Krenz in the shot put and discus; Emerson Spencer, the better-than-40-second quarter miler; Fred Zombro and Imball Dyer, 24-foot broad jumpers; Bob King, 6 foot 6 inch high jumper; Ross Nichols, 15-second hurdler, and others, the latter figure to come in about as handy as a ladies mustache cup. Stanford is "handicapped" to score all of 48 points, which is almost enough to win two meets.

Fugazy apparently has stolen another march on his rival, Tex Rickard. Tex has been negotiating for a bout between Sharkey and Victor Compoldo, Argentine champion

In addition, there is to be considered Ward Edmonds, of Stanford, who is said to be "potentially" a better vaulter than either Barnes or Carr; meaning that the only thing that prevents him from beating both is that he can't seem to vault quite high enough. Edmonds' best is a mere 13 feet 7 inches, but they say his form is perfection itself.

The two-day meeting, starting this afternoon and ending tomorrow will afford the athletic world some inkling of whether the 15-foot vault is within the scope of human endeavor or is only a fantasy of some slightly disordered imagination.

FLYING ROMEOS

"Flying Romeos," the latest First National comedy featuring that imitable pair, George Sidney and Charlie Murray, opens at the State tonight.

Never have Sidney and Murray been funnier since First National wisely put them together as a screen comedy team.

If you can imagine George and Charlie inadvertently becoming aviators when they don't know any more about flying than they do about the fourth dimension, starting on an airplane flight to China only to discover that their "pilot" knows less about it than they do and is somewhat off his head in addition, you have one of the situations—just one of them—which proves comedy in this hilarious farce.

The opening sequences of the picture, too, with George and Charlie as barbers both seeking the hand of the manicurist, is very funny and gets the picture off to a lively start which continues and builds as the production unrolls.

Mervyn LeRoy deserves a great deal of the credit for the brilliancy of this comedy, because of his able and gifted direction. The supporting cast gives valuable assistance in keeping the comedy going. James Bradbury, Jr., as the nut who doesn't know how to fly but insists on doing it anyway, gives a praiseworthy performance, as does charming Fritz Ridgway in the feminine lead.

NEVADA

A gripping story of the western frontier written by a descendant of real frontiersmen—that's "Nevada," Zane Grey's latest, which has been picturized in stirring fashion by Paramount. It is scheduled to open at the Grand tonight.

"Nevada" from all reports, holds the strength, heroism and romance of the Zane Grey standard and also contains many novel twists and dramatic situations of which Director John Waters has taken full advantage.

Followers of red-blooded western screen stories will be pleased to know that Gary Cooper, rangy young star, plays the hero role. Cooper is the daring horseman, under contract to Paramount who has been gaining popularity in the last few months.

Opposite him in the play is Thelma Todd, blonde heroine of exceptional beauty who is looked upon as one of the most promising young actresses on the screen. The menace of the story is supplied largely by that admirable villain, William Powell. The comedy element rests in the hands of Ernie S. Adams. Philip Strange a capable young actor, has an important role.

The story transpires in the southwest cattle country at the time when the citizenry was solidly rising up to put an end to the reign of terror spread by two-guns men and cattle rustlers. It is replete with fast riding, quick gun play, moments of dramatic suspense and broad humor. A splendid love story winds through the action.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, May 25.—Bath-houses and lockers will hardly be needed for this summer judging from the latest bathing fashions which make milady look as if she were all dressed up and ready to go everywhere—but in the water.

Last year's bathing costumes seemed a far cry from the days when a woman used to scurry down the beach, with an old raincoat thrown over the modest, be-skirted bathing-costume. The colored bath robe and little cap or turban to match, together with beautiful water-proof jewelry made a chic ensemble and kept many women from ever going near the water.

But the dressmakers have gone a step farther this season and there will be many a fair mermaid at Deauville and Biarritz exquisitely made up and dressed in chic tailor-made bathing-suits who appear to have sauntered down to the beach merely to look on.

There are four or five pieces to the new bathing-suit; the tight-fitting jersey, little trunks, a jacket which is often without sleeves, and a skirt. Very often the popular kerchief is added which makes it quite impossible to tell just what Madame is about to indulge in. It is simple to slip off the jacket and unfasten the cross-over, buttoned-on skirt and presto, one is ready for the waves.

Chantal is showing a charming bathing costume with a seven-eights gray woolen beach coat, a gray wrap-over skirt (street length), buckled about the hips over a white jersey mailot, with a small red applique on one shoulder.

Opposite him in the play is Thelma Todd, blonde heroine of exceptional

CHICAGO FIGHTS RACKETEERS TO SAVE INDUSTRY

Citizens Decide To End Levy by Gangs Upon Their Daily Lives

Chicago, May 25.—Millions for defense but not one cent for tribute! Taxation without representation!

These old phrases that once rang through American history as the cry for freedom from the tyranny of an old world government have been resurrected in Chicago for a new fight to rid the city of its own domestic tyrants, the racketeers.

Battered and heckled by "trade associations" formed for the sole purpose of extorting money from Chicago business men and the public; taxed on everything from haircuts to milk by the racketeers that now have entered nearly two hundred retail and wholesale fields, citizens of Chicago have decided to end the gang levy on their daily lives.

The Employers' association of Chicago is leading the fight to break the steely grip of the gangster who exacts tribute on half the daily necessities of the Chicagoan's existence.

To Expose Leaders

Plans are now being laid to expose the self-appointed tax commissioners of the "racket," who extract from the citizen's pocket money to run the flourishing gang machine, which has been interwoven with the fabric political since the advent of prohibition.

Otto A. Jaburek, general counsel for the Employers' association, has taken it into his hands to aid in the expose, and perhaps he has taken his life into his hands in so doing, according to his friends. It has been well known that a "ride" or perhaps a swift fusillade from a sawed off shot gun ended the lives of more than one enterprising crusader who opposed the racket.

Business men will be appealed to, directly, to end the grip of gangland on Chicago life. Efforts are being made as rapidly as possible to band business men together into their own association, to fight the tentacles of the "association" leaders.

As it now stands, according to Jaburek and other prominent leaders in close touch with the situation, the racketeers find no field too humble for their activities.

Cleaners, for instance, were "organized" with the aid of a few bombs and a little "muscle work" into a compact group, Jaburek said.

LOANS up to $500

Then "the prices were lifted sharply, so that the public pays the tax levied by so-called "organizers."

"Their methods," Jaburek said, "are simple enough. Business men are forced to pay tribute to the "organizers" under penalty of personal injury or destruction of their goods and property. There is no apparent compensation for belonging to these associations.

Increasing Complaints

"No craft is too insignificant to be racketed and none is, too big.

"Bootblacks have been victims of extortion and so have physicians."

Not only has there been an increasing murmur from the citizens of the city because of the high prices paid the "organizers" but there has been a determined movement on the part of "big money" to end the racket.

Factories employing thousands of persons have been kept out of the city, according to members of the Employers' association, because of the necessity for dealing with the racketeers.

Twenty industries definitely are listed as having withdrawn from Chicago for that reason, Jaburek said. The money loss outside the "levy," therefore, is tremendous.

The fight against racketeers has been in progress here for about a year, but the first mass action is said to be impending now. Fear, greater than fear of the racket, has kept influential employers in the "associations." By concerted attack, it is hoped the "millions for defense" slogan can be revived to end the newest menace to business and the newest menace to business and the newest menace to business.

"Between thirty and forty rackets have been put out of business, or rendered harmless," Jaburek said. "But the rest of them are recommended to Louis XV by the court physician, may once more become celebrated. It has just been rediscovered by a spring finder to make the ferruginous liquid a source of prosperity."

Bourges—The old "Iron Fountain" famous for its health-giving waters recommended to Louis XV by the court physician, may once more become celebrated. It has just been rediscovered by a spring finder to make the ferruginous liquid a source of prosperity.

Columbus — A full-size dwelling house stood in the middle of Dana ave, for more than a day, while house movers and property owners wrangled. The house was being moved to a new location in the street for its owner and his neighbor-elect declared the removal was damaging trees and appealed to police. Traffic got around the house as best it could or sought other streets before it was moved.

BUREAU STARTS STUDY OF X-RAY

Medical Profession Will Aid In Determining Measurements

Washington, May 25.—Co-operating with medical scientists the U. S. Bureau of Standards has undertaken an exhaustive study of X-ray treatment of disease it was learned today.

With hospitals throughout the country beginning to use the penetrating X-rays extensively for therapeutic treatment the Radiological Society of America appealed to the government to determine an accurate method of measurement of the dosages of these health-giving waves.

Successful use of radiation depends upon the accurate dosage measurements under all conditions, according to bureau scientists. Different units of measurement are now used, with no reliable basis for computation of the dosage.

Reports on an international survey of medical research associations and governments aimed at adoption of a single international unit of X-ray measurement will be made next month at a gathering of scientists in Stockholm.

The bureau also is studying the performance of the various X-ray machines used in hospitals to determine the results from the therapeutic standpoint and hazards to operators. A purely scientific research into very soft X-rays has been started.

Another therapeutic investigation is that aimed at the standardization of radium, widely used in the treatment of disease.

L'ETONIA

The spring concert of the L'etonian Choral Union was held Wednesday evening in St. Paul's Lutheran chapel and was pronounced by all the large audience to have been one of the very best entertainments that L'etonia music lovers had the pleasure of hearing for some time.

The chorus sang "O Italia Beloved" for the first number, followed by a solo by Mrs. Raymond Smith. "The Wind's In the South." She responded to an encore singing "When You Give Me Your Heart," chorus. "Sorter Miss You."

Arnold Lutes then sang "Hymns of the Old Church Choir," a beautiful variation of old hymn tunes. He responded to an encore. He was accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Berry on the piano. Mrs. James S. Hall sang "Angel's Serenade" with flute and piano accompaniment by Erwood Slater and the accompanist, Mrs. E. P. Stonebraker. She sang a "Lullaby" as an encore. Miss Marian Widmeyer of Struthers read "The Highwayman." Mr. Lutes sang "Roses of Picardy" and as an encore "Mighty Like a Rose."

"Goin' Home" was sung by the chorus. Mr. and Mrs. James Hall sang a duet, "Spanish Students Song" and as an encore "In the Garden of My Heart." The closing number was the Bridal Chorus from the "Rose Maiden." Mr. Hall was the director.

The card party of St. Patrick's parish which was held Wednesday evening in the Knights of Columbus hall was well attended.

The committee of young women which was in charge was headed by Miss Margaret Silosky. Euchre, "500" and bridge was played.

In euchre the prize winners for high score were Mr. Cadwallader of Salem and Mrs. Michael Ready. In "500" the lovely trophies for high score were captured by John Lee-son and Miss Kate Barrett. Mrs. Anna Holz and Martin Kyser captured the prizes for high score in bridge with Mrs. John Arnold and Edward Crawford winning the consolation trophies.

A wallflower prize was awarded which was captured by Mrs. John Crawford. At a late hour the hostesses served a lunch.

Mrs. Fred Hollinger, who was visiting this week in Cleveland with relatives, has returned to her home in L'etonia.

L'etonia friends have received

home of her sister, Mrs. C. W. Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. George Macklin of Portland, Ore., who were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Harrold for a few days have gone to Dayton where they will visit for a time.

Mr. and Mrs. Macklin left their home in Portland in March and are making an automobile trip from coast to coast. They were in Florida for a time and many noted cities in the east, Washington, D.

C. and other places. They are now on their return journey.

L'etonia friends have received word of the birth of a son to Mr.

and Mrs. Carl Helm of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Helm were former L'etonia residents.

Last year approximately 200 cars of feeder livestock were brought to Ohio feedlots by the co-ops. About a fourth of these cattle was brought directly from range territory of Texas and Colorado through a national pool and the balance came from the St. Paul and Kansas City markets. More than 40 car loads of lambs were also brought in for feeding through this channel.

Ohio does not produce sufficient feeder stock to which the corn crop of the state can be fed, livestock men explain. Uniform stock can be secured by the co-operatives from range and market, to better advantage by group placing of orders than by separate action of individual feeders, they claim.

Feeder Stock Again,

Farm Bureau States

Livestock co-operative organizations of the state will again serve Ohio livestock men in securing feeder stock this year from producing territory, says an announcement received at the office of the Columbian County Farm Bureau.

A few orders for feeder stock have already been placed through co-operative channels, although the heavier shipping season for bringing in stock to feed is toward the fall of the year.

Livestock and farm bureau organizations of Ohio were pioneers in the plan of co-operatively purchasing cattle, calves and lambs for feeding from range territory and western markets. Several years ago the first pooled orders were placed and a number of cars purchased by an
